

A desktop browser window showing the Art Against Displacement website in English. The title "Art Against Displacement" is prominently displayed. To the right is a "ABOUT" section with a detailed description of the group's mission. The text states: "Based in Manhattan's Chinatown and Lower East Side, Art Against Displacement (AAD) is a coalition of artists and arts professionals that seeks to amplify the demands of those whose lives and livelihoods are placed at risk by predatory development and resettlement, and to work in solidarity with grassroots organizations toward community-led rezoning. The group affirms that gentrification is not an inevitable effect of urban development, and refuses to let the work of cultural producers be instrumentalized towards the displacement of long-term residents and businesses." Below this, there is information about their members and supporters, and contact information. At the bottom, there are social media links for Twitter, Instagram, and Are.na.

Logo and identity elements

There is an appropriate asset available within the Google Pay visual system to accommodate all use cases. While similar in appearance, each element has a very specific function. It is important to understand their differences and when each is appropriate to use. Each one is outlined in detail below.

The screenshot shows the 'Partner Marketing Hub' interface under the 'Brands' section for 'Google Pay'. The 'Visual Identity' section is selected, showing a list of sub-sections: 'Logo and identity elements' (which is currently active), 'How our logos work together', 'Showcasing accepted payment methods', 'Color palette', 'Device screens', and 'Photography'. Below this is the 'Use Cases' section, which includes 'Press and Media' and 'Legal and Trademarks'.

The screenshot shows the Sam's Club homepage. A large central banner features a green KitchenAid stand mixer on a purple background. To the left of the mixer, the text "Helping you live fully every day" is displayed in a large, bold, blue font. Below this, a smaller text block reads: "Our philosophy has always been simple. We are the agents for our customers." At the top of the page, there is a navigation bar with links for "Your Lists", "Sam's Club Credit", "Easy Reorder", "Tips & Ideas", "Join", and "Renew". Below the navigation bar is a search bar with the Sam's Club logo to its left. The main menu includes "Shop by department", "Business Center", "Member Services", "Shocking Values", "Member's Mark", "Gift Cards", and "Frequently Ordered".

This promotional graphic is titled "Summer Savings Member Appreciation" and features a "One Day Only" event on Saturday, May 12. It highlights a $30 off offer for all Member's Mark Plate Sets over $99. The graphic includes images of various floral-patterned plates and bowls. Below the main offer, there are four smaller images with their respective prices: $399, $50 off, $8.98, and $30 off. The Sam's Club logo is in the top right corner.
